The hills of West Virginia are alive with the sound of music coming from the iconic Greenbrier resort – a National Historic Landmark and a hotel listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The resort has been offering authentic Southern hospitality to all of its guests for more than 238 years. With its majestic white Georgian columns, it is often compared in beauty to Tara, so vividly presented in Gone with the Wind. Resting on 11,000 acres snuggled comfortably in the Allegheny Mountains, the stately resort offers 710 elegant rooms, 33 spacious suites, 96 clapboard cottages (that date back to 1778) and majestic, spacious estate homes. The hills are indeed alive with the colorful magic of The Greenbrier.
The Greenbrier offers a memorable holiday brimming with more than 55 exciting activities for everyone in the family.

A day at The Greenbrier may begin with a leisurely stroll through the grounds or an invigorating hike on one of many scenic trails.

Many of our activities can be customized for groups. Our reservation experts will gladly suggest a custom itinerary based on your preferences. Then they will book activity reservations in advance so all you have to do is enjoy your stay at America’s Resort.

Memories are made to last at The Greenbrier.

The Greenbrier has been called the most beautiful resort in America, and the original Dorothy Draper décor is now considered iconic. Under the discriminating eye of decorator and curator Carleton Varney, all accommodations – suites, rooms and cottages – sing of happy colors and elegance. Every detail, from furniture to wall coverings and fabrics, dazzle the eye and create that memorable experience found only at The Greenbrier.

All guests should experience the luxurious Presidential Suite that has hosted royalty, statesmen, and film luminaries. President Eisenhower made the Presidential Suite his own when he stayed on the grounds, as did the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

Every room, whether in the hotel or in the cottages, features a nightly turn-down service and a goodnight mint chocolate waiting on the pillow.

Elegance, comfort, and unrivalled hospitality await visitors at The Greenbrier – the most beautiful resort in America.

710 Elegant Rooms
33 Junior Suites
96 Clapboard Cottages
6 Multi-Bedroom Estate Homes
The Greenbrier and its award-winning culinary brigade are constantly creating tempting delights, from Afternoon Tea and cookies in the Upper Lobby to scrumptious homemade ice cream in Draper’s to decadent evening desserts at Prime 44 West.

The dining collection at The Greenbrier is comprised of 19 full-time and seasonal restaurants, cafés, bars and lounges, demonstrating superlative standards in culinary arts. The iconic Main Dining Room is the epitome of Greenbrier cuisine in an elegant setting, a timeless classic featuring Southern and French-inspired dishes. In-Fusion offers fresh sushi and Asian cuisine, The Forum presents Italian pasta and pizza from clay-fired ovens, and Prime 44 West features Wagyu beef and lobster mashed potatoes.

At The Golf Club, guests can relax beneath a mountain view and enjoy the best of seafood, chicken, and Continental cuisine at Sam Snead’s or an after-golf drink at Slammin’ Sammy’s. On Greenbrier Avenue, guests can savor Dorothy’s Chicken Pot Pie at Draper’s or salads, sandwiches and a large selection of wines by the glass at Café Carleton. Or, one can simply lounge beside the infinity pool and lunch under the sun at Tree Tops Café.

Even the cornbread is a prizewinner, and in the best spirit of Southern hospitality, guests take the recipe home. The Greenbrier offers the finest in Southern comfort, in its luxurious setting and in its exquisite cuisine.
The Greenbrier sparkles with excitement — with live entertainment, dancing, champagne toasts and a line-up of other activities for all ages.

The Casino Club, “the most beautiful in the world,” features all the games one finds in Monte Carlo, and all the elegance as well. A festive atmosphere, magnificent décor and that special Greenbrier touch create the ultimate casino experience. Each evening, enjoy a champagne toast and performance of The Greenbrier Waltz by our Springhouse Entertainers.

Sparkling nights also include live entertainment and dancing at 42 Below, located 42 feet below the front entrance in the Casino Club or after-dinner drinks in the Lobby Bar while sitting under a chandelier straight from the Gone with the Wind movie set. In the winter, skate under the stars at the outdoor Skating Rink and sip hot chocolate by the fire.

For younger guests, the resort offers children’s programs featuring laser tag, movies, bowling, swimming and a reliable babysitting service.

Registered Windsor Club guests staying in the Virginia Wing can relax and enjoy exclusive access to the historic Virginia Room, where drinks and canapés are served in a relaxing lounge environment. And at the end of an event-filled day, guests can retire to elegant bedrooms and fall asleep with the glow of stars in the clear night sky.

Nights truly sparkle at The Greenbrier!
For those who love to shop, The Greenbrier is stocked full of men’s and women’s fashions, accessories, home furnishings, jewelry and handbags. And who doesn’t love to shop?

Every child will love Fizzy’s Land of Oz, where the shelves are filled to the brim with books, toys, puzzles, and everything else a child could fancy.

For the lady of style, Bellissima features designers including Badgley Mischka, Lafayette 148 and Joseph Ribkoff. The Ralph Lauren shop is always outfitted with the latest in Ralph’s lifestyle collections. Vera Bradley, Brighton, Pandora, and Dooney & Bourke make Crepe Myrtle Bags & Beads the perfect spot for accessories and gifts. Flying High, the newest addition to Greenbrier Avenue, features a fabulous selection of women’s resort fashions while Belle & Beau carries contemporary ensembles and accessories for young adults.

The man of style will dress to impress at Greenbrier Avenue Men’s with fashions from top men’s collections such as Oxxford, Robert Graham and Peter Millar. The Greenbrier Classic Shop features a variety of Greenbrier Classic branded golf merchandise and apparel.

The Greenbrier Gourmet features kitchen gadgets and specialty foods including The Greenbrier’s famous peaches, as well as morning and afternoon cooking demonstrations.

The Art Colony Shops, located in the historic Alabama Row Cottages, feature skilled West Virginia artisans working with metals, leather, brass, wood, glass and pottery.

And who can resist a handmade truffle from The Candy Maker? The Greenbrier - for those who love to shop.

Arrive in elegant style! The Greenbrier is located in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia perfectly situated in the southeast corner of the state. The resort is within two miles of Interstate 64 just west of the Virginia/West Virginia border. By car, America’s Resort is a four hour drive from Washington, D.C. or Pittsburgh, PA.

Commercial, private and jet air service is available through Greenbrier Valley Regional Airport (airport code: LWB) and Amtrak’s Cardinal train 9 with sleeper car, business and coach class accommodations, stops directly across the street from The Greenbrier’s front entrance.

ELEGANT ARRIVAL
From sweeping mountain views painted by Mother Nature to superb pieces of solid wood furnishings crafted by hand, The Art Colony Shops showcase the best of West Virginia.

The historic Alabama Row Cottages, among the oldest structures at The Greenbrier, were built in the 1830s with porches designed to capture the best views and cool summer breezes. By the early 20th century these cottages were showing their advanced age when Cleveland artists William and Natalie Grauer proposed an “art colony.”

Featuring the work of skilled artisans working in metals, leather, glass and pottery, The Art Colony Shops showcase West Virginia craftsmen at their finest. Enjoy a fascinating glass blowing demonstration in Virtu Studio or simply marvel at the craftsmanship of furniture, jewelry, scarves and art.
Just like the “good old days,” The Greenbrier Chef’s Garden makes farm-to-table dining a wonderful reality that distinguishes The Greenbrier from other resorts. Experienced blue ribbon winners oversee the production of more than 50 varieties of fruits and vegetables that are served daily in The Greenbrier. All of the naturally grown, pesticide-free fruits and vegetables significantly enhance the resort’s food offerings. Visitors can even enjoy a prize-winning heirloom tomato from The Greenbrier Chef’s Garden on their salads or sandwiches – just one of the healthy and tasty foods served at The Greenbrier.

The Greenbrier Chef’s Garden

The former U.S. Government Relocation Facility was a top secret of the Cold War designed to accommodate both the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives in the event of a national emergency. Planned by the Eisenhower Administration, in cooperation with the leadership of the U.S. Congress, the facility was built under The Greenbrier between 1958 and 1961. Once completed, a small cadre of government employees working as Forsythe Associates maintained it in a state of constant readiness. During the life of the facility, continual updating of communications and other equipment and recycling of supplies ensured that the facility was always in a current full-operation status. The secrecy of its location, paramount to the facility’s effectiveness, was maintained for more than 30 years until May 31, 1992, when The Washington Post published a story effectively exposing it. The day after the story appeared, the facility began to be phased out, a procedure that was finalized in July 1995 with the termination of the lease agreement between the U.S. Government and The Greenbrier. During the phase-out period, almost all of the equipment and furnishing were removed from the shelter and reassigned to government facilities around the country.

• The former U.S. Government Relocation Facility is a protected substructure (bunker) buried 720 feet into the hillside under the West Virginia Wing of the hotel. It is surrounded by ceilings and walls that are three to five feet thick reinforced concrete. In addition, there is a 20 to 60 foot dirt cover between the substructure and the West Virginia Wing. The facility has three entrances, each protected by a large steel and concrete door designed to withstand a modest nuclear blast approximately 15-30 miles away, and to prevent radioactive fallout from entering the facility. Both the West and East (Exhibit Hall) Entrances are vehicular tunnels into the facility; a third entrance is through the Exhibit Hall Foyer. Included in the facility are 44 separate locations with 153 rooms making up a total of 112,544 feet on two levels.
For more than 235 years, visitors have traveled to the mountains to “take the waters” and enjoy the healing powers of the natural minerals found in The Greenbrier’s unique sulphur spring waters. Although The Greenbrier began as a spa, the original black and white facilities of yesterday bear little resemblance to the ornate and luxurious facilities of today.

The Greenbrier hosts one of the finest spas in the world. Focusing on hydrotherapy and the natural essences and minerals found in our waters, our health and beauty experts pamper our guests with a variety of mud baths, facial treatments, and “make me beautiful” body therapies. For our gentlemen of distinction, our spa offers a relaxing alternative after a day on the golf course.

The Greenbrier’s MedSpa offers a variety of cosmetic surgery and MedSpa services led by board-certified Dr. Michael S. Kluska. Dr. Kluska believes every individual is a unique work of art and his focus is enhancing one’s already existing natural beauty through medically sound procedures. The goal is to help each and every patient achieve a natural look reflective of their own distinct inner beauty.

The Greenbrier beauty experience continues at Perfect Image, which carries La Prairie and Trish McEvoy cosmetic and skin care products and Chanel, Franché and Creed fragrances. Salon Vivace offers ladies a simple comb-out, a cut, or a re-styling, as well as manicures and pedicures, all while seated under a sapphire crystal chandelier.

All the tradition, glamour and elegance of our world-renowned mineral spa await health and beauty enthusiasts at The Greenbrier!
The Greenbrier Clinic has kept the world’s top executives healthy and thriving since 1948, and the two-day, world-renowned comprehensive executive diagnostic physical exam is available with all the luxury and service one expects at The Greenbrier. Innovative state-of-the-art diagnostics and hours of personal physician care and attention encourage a progressive healthcare approach that will last a lifetime.

And after a visit to the clinic, our guests can enjoy all the food and fun at The Greenbrier!

and Memories last Forever

“A wonderful hotel in a beautiful setting - an exceptional memory”

- Princess Grace of Monaco, April 1963
The Greenbrier is America’s Resort, but for some . . . It’s simply home.

Nested in the heart of the Allegheny Mountains in West Virginia, spread across The Greenbrier’s lush 11,000-acre estate, you’ll discover The Greenbrier Sporting Club—the only private equity club and residential community to call America’s Resort home. The Greenbrier Sporting Club offers real estate opportunities unrivaled anywhere else in the world, with existing amenities being enjoyed by over 400 members and their families in the lap of luxury.

Oakhurst, our newest neighborhood for The Greenbrier Sporting Club, offers magnificent mountain views overlooking the historic Oakhurst Links while providing a unique opportunity to live alongside a NEW mountaintop golf course designed by four legends of the game! Golf icons—Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player—are collaborating for the first time on one golf course design—an unprecedented architectural achievement in the history of building golf courses. This mountain course, with dramatic elevation changes and spectacular vistas, is the centerpiece of Oakhurst. Additional amenities to include a clubhouse, dining, pro shop, outdoor pool, ski slopes and chalet along with miles of hiking & biking trails.
