Open daily for dinner from 5:30pm until 9:00pm, The Forum – located just inside the North Entrance across from the Candy Maker – transports diners into a comfortable Italian neighborhood nestled in Rome.

The unmistakable Italian aromas combined with traditional music and classic Italian decor create an experience to remember, but the food is the biggest star of the show.

Sweet banana peppers, signature meatballs, Fried Calamari, Mediterranean salads and Minestrone Soup provide the perfect starters. They're followed by delicious pastas topped with everything from sausage to seafood or main dishes like Veal Marsala or Lingine and Clams that bring the tastes of Italy to America's Resort™.

Finish it with gelato, Italian cream cake, tiramisu or profiterole, and you're sure to leave already anticipating your next trip.

What would an Italian restaurant be without pizza?

The back half of The Forum is filled with a coal fired pizza oven, where guests can find classic hand-tossed Neapolitan pizza featuring delectable crusts made with the best imported semolina flour.

Anthracite coal, known to hold temperatures longer than any other type, is supplemented by heat from the solid granite slab to combine that signature smokey flavor with more even cooking of your freshly prepared pizza.

Delivery is available 24 hours a day, and pickup is available from 6:00pm until 9:00pm at The Forum.

The walls are decorated with other paintings and murals, creating a rich, theatrical atmosphere.

Cafe Carleton is a unique evening cabaret experience offering rare and exclusive premium spirits and wines, complemented with caviar, oysters, cheese and charcuterie plates. Entertainment includes live piano music and showtunes. Open Fridays and Saturdays from 8 pm to Midnight.

Like many of the finest luxury resorts around the world, The Greenbrier offers exquisite culinary offerings at various restaurants and lounges throughout the property. But what sets America's Resort™ apart from the rest is the wide variety of after-dinner options, from the Casino Club to live entertainment inside lounges and bars featuring premium libations.

Since 2017, Café Carleton has provided one of the most popular after-dinner options, offering an intimate experience inside its signature bright red walls.

An evening at Café Carleton is sure to deliver an unforgettable cabaret experience where live entertainment pairs perfectly with after-dinner drinks to create a warm and welcoming environment to round out your evening ventures.

Open Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights from 5:00pm until midnight, Café Carleton offers the finest in premium wines and spirits curated from the most prestigious distilleries and wineries from around the world. Bottles of wines from regions such as Chateauneuf-du-Pape are served alongside aged high-end brown liquors, traditional Bavarian ales from the world's oldest breweries and hand-crafted infusions.

"A trip to Café Carleton is a magnificent experience that stimulates all of the senses and provides the perfect after-dinner entertainment," said The Greenbrier Director of Spirits and Casual Dining, Mike Deskins. "The cocktail and wine selection at Café Carleton is designed to be the finest in the world and please the most discerning palate."

To fully appreciate the beauty and flavors inside Café Carleton, I recently made a trip to sample some of the signature cocktails and enjoy the cabaret.

My first drink was a martini, prepared table side, as is any drink at Cafe Carleton made with clear alcohol. The expert servers bring the cart, filled with all of the necessary ingredients for the perfect cocktail, right to the table, giving the guest the option of customizing any drink to meet his or her preference.

The martini was the perfect starter, but it was the theatre of watching the preparation that made the experience so unique. That same theatre extended a table side absinthe fountain. Watching the chilled ice water drip drop-by-drop over a sugar cube to combine with the absinthe for a unique flavor similar to liquorish, was an extraordinary culinary experience.

Not all of the offerings at Café Carleton are served table side, though, so it was time to head to the bar to sample some of the opulent brown liquor offerings and hand-crafted infusions.

There, Deskins explained a little more about some of Café Carleton's signature cocktails, crafted with house-made spirit infusions. Those unique infusions include Red Cherry-Infused Old Forester 100, Banana Nut-Infused Sailor Jerry Spiced Rum, Kenyan Coffee Bean-Infused Finlandia Vodka, Jalapeno and Ginger-Infused Casmigos Tequilla and Thyme and Citrus-Infused Aviation Gin.

All of those spirits - carefully selected by the beverage team and crafted with an unequalled attention to detail - can be ordered straight or in any cocktail. These signature drinks, concocted to create the perfect experience for the refined cocktail connoisseur, stole the show.

First on the list of signature cocktails was the Smoking Gun, which is an experience you have to witness to understand. The process started by pouring Woodford Reserve Bourbon into a decanter. Deskins then put apple wood chips into a special smoker, and as he torched the chips, the smoke ran from a tube into the decanter to give the bourbon a unique smoky flavor, before it was poured over ice into a mule mug. The aroma that filled the room immediately invigorated the senses, but that was nothing compared to the sensation on my palate when the smoky bourbon was blended with fresh lime juice and blood orange liqueur, then topped with Ginger Beer and garnished with a lime twist.

The Bejeweled is another signature cocktail, made with the thyme and citrus-infused gin. It is shaken with chartreuse, Luxardo syrup and fresh lime and served with a twist of lime in a martini glass. This was also a delectable drink, and I was surprised with how much I enjoyed the thyme flavor infused with the otherwise sweet liquid.

The Tequila Nightingale followed on the sample list, featuring the ginger and jalapeno-infused tequila. Café Carleton's own twist on a Collins also included fresh lemon and ginger simple syrup, and it was served on the rocks with tonic floated on top. The warm taste of this cocktail created an indescribable sensation upon touching my lips.

Beginning at 8:00pm each evening, The Greenbrier Springhouse Entertainers fill Café Carleton with live piano music and show tunes. The music from the elegantly-dressed entertainers permeated every corner of the room, and their expertly-trained voices had every guest tapping his or her toes or singing along.

"These entertainers are unbelievably talented," said The Greenbrier Director of Entertainment Jeff Bryant. "The performances at Café Carleton are integral part of the special experience offered for after-dinner entertainment."

With amazing drinks on the table, talented performers an arms-length away and a room filled with the refined guests of America's Resort, it was time to complete my evening with a cheese and charcuterie platter. Other menu offerings include caviar service and oysters on the half shell.

"It's a great place to come and relax and have a craft cocktail made in front of you," said Deskins. "It's is a contemporary speakeasy-type feel and we invite all our guests to discover the Café Carleton experience.

"It's also a terrific spot for groups to buy out to entertain clients or hold company celebrations."

SPOTLIGHT ON:

INDOOR GOLF AND TENNIS

During the summer and spring, there are no busier locations on The Greenbrier's 11,000 acres than the golf courses and the tennis courts, which have been guest favorites for more than a century. But were you aware that those legendary Greenbrier sporting adventures are also available when The Old White TPC and the Har-Tru outdoor courts are covered in a blanket of snow?

When it comes to golf, the TruGolf Indoor Simulator provides the perfect opportunity for instruction or entertainment.

With virtual simulations of more than 85 golf courses and 36 modes of play, the simulator gives friends and colleagues a chance to fulfill the need for competition and camaraderie, with a match just like one they would play on The Old White TPC or The Meadows. With food and drink available for purchase and various modes of game play outside of a traditional round, the simulator can also provide a different style of entertainment for a recreational golfer that can't be found on the course.

"Whether you want to play a round at Pebble Beach or compete in an arcade-style game with targets and points, our TruGolf Simulator has you covered," said The Greenbrier Director of Golf Instruction Billy Winters, who runs the simulator during the winter. "The graphics are amazing, and the simulator is incredibly accurate and realistic. Our guests often make an outing of it with friends, food and drink, and the experience is one to remember."

For the serious golfer determined to keep his or her game in shape, the TruGolf Simulator is also an incredible teaching tool. The TruTrack analyzer provides precise feedback about where the golfer is hitting the ball, how hard it is being hit and other information about ball flight and club head positioning that will help improve every facet of the swing. These tools, paired with the knowledge and experience from Winters, who was named the top instructor in West Virginia by Golf Digest for 2017-18, make for a unique lesson that will get your game in shape for the spring and summer.

"The data that the system provides is incredible," said Winters. "It gives immediate feedback on the swing that helps me make suggestions for improvement."

Simulator rental rates start at $50 per hour for a single player, up to $120 per hour for four players. Private lessons are $150 per hour for adults and $85 per hour for juniors. To schedule your lesson or simulator experience, call 304-661-3563 or email billy_winters@greenbrier.com.

A little cold weather does nothing to stop the tennis activity at The Greenbrier, as five Deco-Turf indoor courts, a modern pro shop and locker room facilities make for an inviting indoor option.

The indoor courts – which have hosted the likes of Venus Williams, Serena Williams, Pete Sampras, John McEnroe and other tennis greats – can be reserved for $46 per hour. Rackets can be rented for $10 a day, and a ball machine can be reserved for $54 an hour, giving the player every opportunity to work on his or her game with or without a partner.

“There aren’t many resorts around the country that offer the incredible indoor opportunities that we’re able to provide,” said Head Tennis Professional Jennifer Tuckwiller. “The courts are fantastic and provide a great place for a match when the weather turns cold.”

For those who need some instruction to improve the backhand or serve, 50-minute clinics are offered daily at 11:00am, and at 2:00pm Thursday through Sunday at a cost of $40 per person. Private lessons are also available at a discounted rate of $95 per person during the winter season.

“We are able to provide instruction to players of all ability levels,” said Tuckwiller. “Whether you are just beginning or have been playing for years, we can help.”

The newest offering inside the Tennis and Fitness Center is indoor pickleball, allowing guests to take part in a sport that is quickly growing in popularity.

To reserve a court or a lesson, call 304-536-1110 (ext. 7179). For more information, visit greenbrier.com/tennis.

AMERICA'S RESORT

The Greenbrier®
CONCOURS D'ELEGANCE

History in the Making

CE

In May of 2018, a new tradition was started at The Greenbrier when America's Resort hosted The Greenbrier Concours d'Elegance for the first time. That tradition continues May 5-7, 2019 when a bigger and better Concours d'Elegance returns to The Greenbrier to expand on that foundation in year No. 2.

For more than a century, The Greenbrier has been synonymous with fine cars and events for automobile manufacturers and dealers, and The Greenbrier Concours d'Elegance was created to highlight that history and add a new chapter to the story with a weekend filled with events to celebrate the automobile.

Following years of planning, The Greenbrier Concours d'Elegance came to reality May 4-6, 2018. The weekend featured a scenic Summit Drive, a Car Club Day, which brought nearly 100 cars to The Greenbrier's renowned golf courses, a Charitable Gala, which raised money for the Mountaineer Autism Project and the Antique Automobile Club of America Library and Research Center, and, of course, the featured Concours d'Elegance on Sunday, which brought 100 of the finest collector cars in the world to The Greenbrier.

At the end of the weekend, 11 class champions were crowned in addition to the Best of Show winner, which went to Carl Baxter's 1934 Swallow Sidecar (Jaguar) SS1 Saloon. A heavy storm on Saturday night moved the event to The Greenbrier's iconic front circle and inside the hotel. That proved to be a blessing in disguise, as it created a gorgeous backdrop for photos and provided shelter during occasional storms.

"Overall, it was a fantastic weekend," said Tom Cox, a member of The Greenbrier Concours d'Elegance Committee. "It was the perfect start, and now our goal is to make the Concours better each year."

Some of those plans are already taking shape. When The Greenbrier Concours d'Elegance returns in 2019, it will feature two driving events – the Kate's Mountain Drive, which will begin with morning breakfast, followed by a drive to Cass Railroad State Park, and the Summit Drive, which will feature lunch at The Summit at The Greenbrier Sporting Club and a scenic drive to Paint Bank, Va. Both give drivers the opportunity to test the power and precision of their vehicles while taking in the picturesque views of the mountains and valleys that create an artist's canvas throughout West Virginia and Virginia.

The Saturday event will be transformed into an International Car Show, featuring cars and motorcycles from car clubs and individuals from across the country. The Charitable Gala, which will again benefit the Mountaineer Autism Project and the AACA Library and Research Center, will include a dinner and a full bar, and Sunday's Concours d'Elegance – which, thanks to the lessons learned in 2018, will again be held in the front circle, as well as various indoor locations throughout the historic hotel – will include more than 100 top collector cars from around the world. A featured Rolls-Royce and Bentley class at this year's Concours will celebrate the 100th anniversary of Bentley motors.

"We're extremely excited about how the 2019 event is coming together," said Cox. "Hotel rooms and tickets are going fast, so we know that everyone is looking forward to a fantastic celebration of automobiles at America's Resort."
