Cameo Ballroom

The Greenbrier's Cameo Ballroom has hosted many grand events throughout its history. From the 1950 Balmain fashion show to present-day weddings, the beauty of this hardwood-floored spot in the central part of the hotel provides a grand spot for entertaining.

This Azalea-colored room features a 9-foot wide Czechoslovakian crystal chandelier placed by Dorothy Draper in 1948. The breathtaking ballroom obtained its name from the intricate molding on the ceiling that resembles a cameo motif. Ideal for receptions and dinners, it also the perfect setting for The Greenbrier's Gold Service dinners.
